

Eid Al-Fitr Holiday for the Federal Government: From 1st to 3rd Shawwal

Additionally, if the holy month of Ramadan completes 30 days, then 30th Ramadan will also be considered an official holiday, extending the Eid break accordingly.

The circular, addressed to all ministries and federal entities, is based on Cabinet Resolution No. (27) of 2024, which outlines official public holidays in the UAE.

On this occasion, FAHR extended its heartfelt congratulations to the government and people of the United Arab Emirates, as well as residents and the Arab and Islamic nations, praying for continued health and prosperity for all.
